SHINING PEOPLE

Some people are like stars a-shedding light
That's able to dispel the night
And fill the day with brilliance and bliss,
The feeling of elation that we often miss.
They make this life more pleasant and inviting,
Their mere presence at you side's inciting,
They come to mind when you're far away
Because inside your heart they stay.
They leave a lasting trace inside your soul
By their openness, intelligence and all.
